Hub Cheers As Ancients March Here

Boston turned out to cheer today as its Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, oldest chartered military organization in America, marched in colorful parade through historic downtown streets.

Celebrating their unit's 300th anniversary, the Ancients had with them, in picturesque column, a visiting detachment of London's Honourable Artillery Company, founded in England 401 years ago.

The parade route was from Faneuil Hall, "Cradle of American Liberty," to the State House and thence to New Old South Church in Copley square.

Tells Police Suitor Once Beat Victim

WORCESTER, June 6—On two theories, one that he was slain by hirelings of a jealous Worcester man, and the other that he was the victim of a pickup murder, police pressed today in probing the killing of Thomas F. O'Connell, crippled poet.

O'Connell, his neck broken, head and face battered and his chest crushed, was found dead in Institute Park, only a few blocks from Clark University, where several years ago he was a student.

In hope of gaining an answer to the bludgeon-slaying, police secretly questioned a Worcester woman, sweetheart of a local "business man," noted for his jealousy and quick temper.

HUNT FOR AUTO

Talking with the mystery woman revealed that the suitor once had badly beaten the 32-year-old poet, who weighed less than 100 pounds, police asserted.

Police also planned to question the "business man," who is said to have resented the poet's attentions to the woman.

Today they were combing the city for a blood-stained car on the theory that O'Connell was picked up in the auto Sunday morning, taken for a ride and beaten to death in the car, his body then being left in the park.

AIR RAIDERS STIR PARIS

PARIS, June 6 (AP)—Premier Daladier left today by plane for the French-Spanish frontier, accompanied by General Decamb, immediately after he received word warplanes from Spain had crossed the frontier for the second successive day.

A fast army plane landed the premier at Toulouse at 3:50 p. m. He was met by military and civilian authorities and left by automobile for a tour of the frontier region.

Today's air raiders from Spain, like those of yesterday, were nine unmarked planes flying in V formations.

They dropped no bombs and turned back after a 10-minute flight over French territory. They were greeted by warning shots from at least two French anti-aircraft batteries.

ITALIANS RAJ FRANCE

While Daladier flew south, Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet cancelled vacation plans and conferred at the foreign office with the French ambassadors to London and Berlin, chiefly on the collapse of recent Franco-Italian negotiations over the Spanish question.

The French embassy in Rome sent summaries of Italian press comment accusing France of trying to smash the German-Italian entente. One of the main complaints of the Italian press was that supplies still were being sent from France to the Spanish government by the route which planes "of unknown nationality" bombed yesterday and over which they flew again today.

RED-CHINESE PACT PROVED

Special Cable to the Boston Evening American

LONDON, June 6—The London Times, in a dispatch from its Riga correspondent, declares that certain undisputed facts "indicate the report of a Sino-Soviet agreement is substantially correct."

The agreement is a nine-point pact under which Russia, for preferred treatment in China trade would give China war materials and supply military strategists to assist Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek.

It was "officially denied" such a pact had been signed, but diplomatic circles pointed out that "official" denials frequently are made only for temporary convenience.

ADMITTED FACTS

Riga correspondent wrote:

"While the Soviet government has made no satisfactory statement on the visit to Russia of Sun Fo, president of the Chinese Legislative Council, a few facts which are not disputed indicate that the report of a Sino-Soviet agreement is substantially correct."

"The foreign commissariat at Moscow admits that negotiations between the two governments began last summer; that a provisional agreement called 'a five-year non-aggression pact' was signed August 21; that a representative of Outer Mongolia, which is virtually a Soviet province, arrived in Moscow during January when Sun Fo was paying his first visit on his special mission."

VOLUNTEERS SENT

"HOW FAR THE NEGOTIATIONS PROGRESSED AT THAT TIME WAS NOT INDICATED, BUT SUN FO RETURNED IN MAY AND THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT NOW ANNOUNCES HE HAS LEFT AGAIN."

"It is no secret that 'volunteers' are being sent to China proper after training in Outer Mongolia, where all military training is superintended by officers of the Red Army, largely as reinforcements for the CHINESE EIGHTH COMMUNIST ARMY."

"It appears Sun Fo signed an undertaking on behalf of the Chinese government guaranteeing the Soviet government the most-favored-nation treatment."

ANTI-AIRCRAFT UNIT—Following two excursions of "Spanish" warplanes over French territory in two days, France today prepared to repulse the next raid with batteries of anti-aircraft guns such as this. Photo shows mechanical car and a rapid-fire gun.

Rome, recently, warned Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italy's foreign minister, the Anglo-Italian agreement of April 16 would lose much of its value if the Franco-Italian talks broke down over Rome's attitude toward Spain.

Squadrons of French warplanes patrolled the Spanish frontier under orders to shoot down air raiders attempting any more attacks on French soil. The planes roared over the Pyrenees from the direction of Spain and dropped bombs 15 miles inside the French border. Witnesses told government investigators the planes flew for two hours along the main Trans-Pyrenean Railroad and penetrated 50 miles into France before retracing their course and bombing near Orly.

Japs Bare Sino-Soviet Pact

By JAMES R. YOUNG

International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, June 6—For the first time since original reports of its existence started the world, the official Japanese news agency today described a nine-point agreement reached between Soviet Russia and China involving material aid and machinery for widespread Communist propaganda.

The official agency, Domei, said information the pact already had been signed has reached Tokyo. As first disclosed in a Riga dispatch to the London Daily Mail, the agreement provides for Soviet military aid to China in exchange for which China will place in the hands of Soviet officials the task of whipping up propaganda and war sentiment against Japan.

FACT DENIED

Domei's article was the first official or semi-official admission made in Japan regarding knowledge of the agreement. Formal denials such a pact had been signed were issued in Moscow and Hankow immediately after the Daily Mail's disclosures and Japanese officials refrained from comment.

Notwithstanding the denials, Domei stated it had learned the pact resulted from the recent visit to Moscow of Sun Fo, president of the Chinese Legislative Council. According to Domei, it provides:

1—China will engage Soviet military and administrative advisors.

PLANES, MUNITIONS

2—Anti-Japanese propaganda will be conducted by the Chiang Kai-Shek administration under direction of a Soviet counselor.

3—Soviet Russia will supply China with all necessary airplanes and munitions for the organization of two mechanized divisions and of four aerial groups consisting of 72 planes each.

4—China will grant the Soviet such concessions as have never been given before to any foreign country.

The five other points in the alleged agreement were not listed by Domei.

Filmdom A-Snoop! Hub Girl to Wed?

Hollywood romance-snoopers were all a-thrill today over reported marriage plans of Virginia Walker, formerly of Boston, and William Hawks, one of the movie capital's most eligible young businessmen.

Miss Walker, born in Cambridge 20-odd years ago, lived with her mother in Back Bay, until her photograph in a cigarette advertisement won her a Hollywood career.

IN PINCHOT CRASH

She was recently reported engaged to Geoffrey Pinchot, nephew of the former governor of Pennsylvania.

Young Pinchot and Miss Walker were both injured, in April, when an auto he was driving overturned near the Pinchot ranch in Arizona.

Hawks, highly popular in Hollywood, was until lately an admirer of Movie Beauty Anita Colby.

ROMANCE ABLOOM

Now west coast columnists and society observers say definitely the Virginia Walker-Bill Hawks romance is abloom, with an early wedding being planned.

Miss Walker is the daughter of the late Attorney William Walker and Mrs. Eva Walker. Her first stage experience was in a Harvard Dramatic club play.

Boy Seized for Museum Swim

Another invasion of the Germanic Museum at Harvard University by small boys who used the 10 by 25-foot goldfish pond as a swimming pool and caused other damage, was reported to Cambridge police today.

One 12-year-old, seized by Max Keller, caretaker, and Fritz Rau, his assistant, was in police custody.

Similar vandalism, it was revealed, occurred Memorial Day.

The boys gained entrance to the patio of the museum by scaling a 12-foot barbed-wire-topped fence.

Keller said he captured today's prisoner after several blocks' chase. Overtaken, he said, the boy seized hold of a fence, and when Keller sought to force him to release his grip other boys, he said, threw stones at him.

Sporty Church Take Your Clubs

PELHAM, N. Y., June 6 (AP)—Members of the congregation of 106-year-old Christ's Protestant Episcopal Church may attend Sunday services in picnic and beach costumes now and bring along their golf clubs and tennis racquets, too.

Permission to come to church in sports attire was granted by the rector, the Rev. Edward Thomas Taggard.

"It cannot be considered a desecration of the Sabbath to indulge in wholesome recreation," he observed.

'Brain Waves' New Key To Mental Disease Cure

How're your brain waves today?

Three doctors at Harvard University have perfected a new "brain wave" theory that may revolutionize the diagnosis and treatment of mental diseases.

They are Dr. Frederick A. Gibbs, his wife, Dr. Emma L. Gibbs, and Dr. William Lennox.

Six little rotating drums, on each of which a stylus makes a graph, and wires that lead from each one of them and are fitted to your head by means of electrodes, constitute their machinery. They call it an "electroencephalograph."

Out of your head come "brain waves"—minute electrical impulses, 1-10,000,000th of a volt in strength.

The electroencephalograph "steps up" this microscopic voltage 100,000,000 times to a strength of 10 volts, enough to motivate the pencils on the moving drums.

"Our experiments," Dr. Frederick Gibbs explained today, indicate that a normal person's "brain waves" are at a rate of approximately 10 per second.

"Numerous tests of known mental patients, on the other hand, have shown without exception that their 'brain waves' are either at a rate of less than six per second or more than 15 per second."

In the case of one former football player who, years ago, suffered a blow on the head and has since been afflicted with epilepsy, it was found that once every five or 10 seconds his "brain waves" fluctuated madly. While they were thus fluctuating, it was found, the patient could not do arithmetic problems, nor even write a sentence that required any thought.

FREUD IN EXILE Sad! Analyzes Bible

LONDON, June 6 (AP)—Dr. Sigmund Freud, a sad, white-whiskered old man, arrived in London today from Nazi Vienna in search of "peace and quiet."

The 52-year-old "father of psychoanalysis" was accompanied by his wife, his daughter Anna, and his son Ernst, a London architect.

The scientist was hustled from the ferry-train which brought him from Paris over night to an automobile, which took him to a large rented house in the St. John's Wood section of London, where he will live.

ANALYZING BIBLE

There Dr. Freud, whose researches in the influence of sex on behavior won him world fame, hopes to complete a book intended to show how the Bible reflected the sub-conscious yearnings and fears of the people of antiquity.

A group of friends of the aged Jewish professor greeted him at Victoria Station, but Dr. Freud was not able to speak to them.

Another son, Martin, an attorney, arrived just in time to see his father driven away.

"My father is a very old man," Martin Freud said. "What he wants most is peace and quiet for his remaining days."

LOVES ENGLAND

"He will stay in England because he loves the country and loves the people. We are negotiating now to see if we can get some of his belongings out of Austria."

It was the elder Freud's first trip to England in 60 years. His entire family is here now. Besides his wife, sons and daughter Anna, another daughter, Frau Hollitschek, arrived two weeks ago from Austria with her husband.

Anna Freud hopes to practice here as a psychoanalyst if she can obtain a permit.

Mrs. Greene had promised to dance if the proper music were provided, so members of her family attending her birthday party yesterday took along a banjo.

FRANCES FARMER
In $75,000 Fight

Star Picked By Chance

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—Only two years ago Frances Farmer, stage and screen star, was just a college girl who had won a magazine subscription contest—but that, the Supreme Court was told today, was an entering wedge to fame.

The story was told by Oscar Selin, former movie talent scout, who testified for Miss Farmer in the action brought against her by Shepard Traube, who seeks $75,000 as 10 per cent of the earnings he has estimated the actress will have realized between 1936 and 1941. Traube contends Miss Farmer contracted to be managed by him during that period.

The court gave counsel for both sides until June 20 to submit briefs.

Reds Threaten ALL Religions

By JOHN BRADFORD MAIN

Boston Evening American Staff Writer

(This is the second of a series revealing the Communists' plan to bring about strife between religious sects in the United States.)

Communism threatens the religion—ALL religions—of America!

The report of the special commission that has been investigating Communism and other 'isms in Massachusetts barely scratches the surface in its revelation of how Reds are "boring from within" the churches, seeking to foster dissension and religious hatreds.

That was the statement to the Boston Evening American today by one of the commission's members—James P. Rose, of West Roxbury, former Massachusetts State commander of the American Legion.

Mr. Rose joined Municipal Judge A. L. Cohen, outstanding Jewish leader in Boston, and the Rev. Michael J. Ahern, S. J., leader of the Catholic Truth Society, in denunciation of the Communist scheme to set religion against religion in America.

As a matter of fact, it repeatedly has been proven by unquestionably accurate authority, that the Communist drive against religion—ALL religion—is directed equally, and with equal viciousness, against the Jewish synagogue as well as any Roman Catholic cathedral or Protestant church.

DAILY EVIDENCE

That the spread of Communist-encouraged religious dissension is very real, and that it constitutes a very real menace to the welfare of America, is evidenced daily in dozens of news dispatches from all parts of the country.

In New York city Saturday, Rabbi Abraham L. Feinberg, at Mount Nebah Temple, told his congregation:

"Religious strife is increasing in America."

"Economic depression, social insecurity and foreign propaganda are bound to aggravate a normal religious intolerance which always arises from the close contact of different faiths."

"This upsurge of religious ill-will is a menace not only to the spiritual welfare of the church, but also to the well-being of the United States as a nation."

Rabbi Herbert S. Goldstein, at the West Side Institutional Synagogue, likewise in New York City, blamed "religious teachers" who, he pointed out, "flirt with political science and utter half-baked social theories."

This has been the Communist method of "boring from within" the churches. The scheme has been to "infiltrate" the more liberal churches in such things as "peace" and "anti-Fascism."

"By gaining support of religious bodies for a so-called 'peace' and 'anti-fascist' program," the report of the Massachusetts special commission points out, "the Communist Party, U. S. A., seeks to protect the Soviet Union."

The report quotes, in substantiation of this, the official instructions of the Communist International in Moscow.

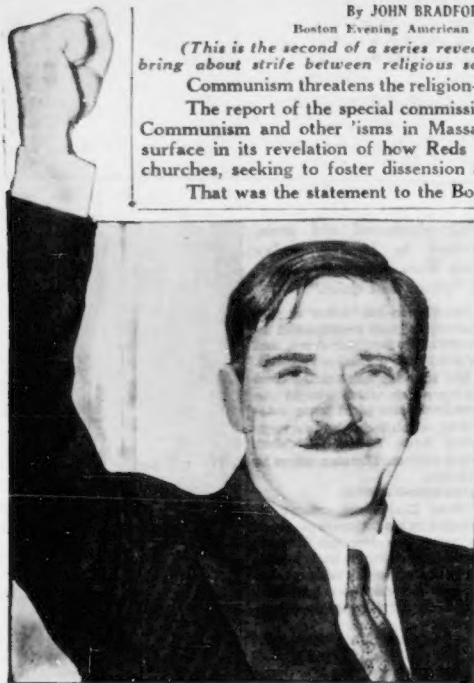

WHAT HE SAYS

"The Communist Parties," say these instructions, "must do all in their power not to permit an imperialistic, out and out reactionary war of the capitalist world against the Soviet Union, the fatherland of all the toilers and the bulwark of the world proletarian revolution."

How Communist leaders laugh among themselves at the gullibility of the religious groups that "cooperate" in their "peace" and "anti-Fascist" programs is revealed in the writings of no less a personage than Earl Browder, head of the Communist Party in America, himself.

In his book, "What Is Communism," Browder, speaking of these religious groups, says:

"We have been able to unite with them because we have been able to convince many church leaders, and especially their followers, of the necessity for unity if we are to protect our rights, among them religious freedom, which are endangered by the rise

"Religions . . . Are All Bad"

A Change of Front?

The Communist party is making a desperate effort to pose as friends of American democracy and American institutions. The party, through its spokesman, Earl Browder, invites the support of religious bodies, particularly the Catholic Church.

In view of the avowed hostility to all religion in Soviet Russia, the destruction of churches, the murder of priests and nuns, and the effort to convince the people that all religion is a hollow mockery, the American Communist party, owned body and soul by Moscow, is putting up a gigantic hoax.

It appears that American Communism is faced with the necessity of putting on a new front. It is now actually pretending patriotism, making use of the American flag in parades and at meetings where before the flag was scorned and the red flag made the true emblem.

The Communist-controlled "League Against War and Fascism" has changed its title to "The American League for Peace and Democracy," because there were so many embarrassing questions about why Communism was not as dangerous to democracy as Fascism.

Communists are all against preparedness in America and apparently bitterly hostile to all wars except those in which Communism has an interest, as in Spain. War preparations in Russia, now one of the most thoroughly militarized nations in the world, with a larger army than any, are quite all right and are supported with enthusiasm. But no other nation should prepare for war.

The idea that Communists now seek to instill into the public mind, that American Communism is decidedly different from the Russian brand, won't hold water. Even the deceptive change of front was ordered by Moscow.

Hitler Blasted, Church Lauded

The Hitler government was denounced and the Catholic Church portrayed as the best friend America has, at separate communion breakfasts in Cambridge and Boston.

Hitler was assailed by the Rev. Joseph J. Keenan of Emmanuel College, the speaker before the Catholic Professional Women's Club at the Copley-Plaza Hotel. He declared the German leader was conducting a subtle campaign to rid Germany of Catholics.

More than 400 Knights of Columbus at the Continental Hotel, Cambridge, heard the Rev. Thomas J. Herlihy, S.J., plead the cause of Catholic education.

FIERY CROSS Symbol of Hate of Fascism.

"They have found that it is the anti-religious Communists who fight for freedom of religious belief."

"They have seen that it is the Fascists, who supposedly march under the flag of religion, as in Germany, who destroy all freedom including religious freedom."

"Hence many church organizations have joined in the broad united front against war and Fascism, and are glad to find the anti-religious Communists fighting alongside of them, shoulder to shoulder."

Browder's reference to Germany is particularly interesting in the light of the statement given out by Father Ahern, of the Catholic Truth Society, here yesterday. Father Ahern said:

"Catholics are well aware that the chief enemy of Judaism in Germany are the extreme National Socialists, who are also the chief opponents of the Catholic Church, as well as of orthodox Christianity in general."

LENIN'S IDEA

As for Browder's claims that Communism stands for, or even recognizes, the principle of religious freedom, the following is from the book, "Religion," written by the greatest Communist of them all—Lenin:

"Atheism is a natural and inseparable part of Marxism, of the theory and practice of scientific socialism . . ."

"Religion is the opium of the people . . ."

"Our Party is a league of class-conscious, progressive fighters for the liberation of the working class. Such a league can not and must not be indifferent . . . to ignorance or insanity in the shape of religious beliefs . . ."

HITS AT ALL

"One of the objects of our organization . . . is precisely to fight against all religious deception . . ."

And Browder himself, for all his talk about "freedom of religious belief," writes elsewhere in his very same book on "What Is Communism."

"We stand without any reservations for education that will root out beliefs in the supernatural, that will remove the religious prejudices which stand in the way of organizing the masses . . ."

"As far as religious workers go, the Party does not insist they abandon their beliefs before they join the Party . . . We subject their religious beliefs to careful and systematic criticism, and we expect that they will educational process."

Critics, says Browder on page 149 of his book, "do not understand" that—

"We Communists do not distinguish between good and bad religions, because we think they are all bad for the masses."

GROUPS LISTED

The report of the Massachusetts special commission lists a number of church organizations that, the commission charges, are Communist-influenced.

Included are:

"The Rev. Dr. Harry Ward,

Urges Ballot Purge of Red Candidates

Bar the names of Communist and Socialist party candidates from ballots in all elections in the United States.

This was the formula suggested as a check on radical forces in this country by Jerome D. Cohen, of Brookline, State commandant of the Marine Corps League, at the League's 14th annual State convention in the Hotel Brunswick.

"These aspirants to public office who represent Socialism, Communism or any other kind of 'ism' except Americanism flaunt before the public an avowal to promote their subversive beliefs," Cohen declared.

"They are pledged to promote their causes if they are elected and the fact that they are now allowed on ballots is an insult to the American public."

"That they support such causes should be sufficient excuse either to have them deported or confined somewhere where they can do no harm."

Cohen, who Saturday charged Governor Hurley with disregarding the veterans' preference law, made no reference to the chief executive in his talk.

Mayor John J. Sullivan, representing the Governor, defended Hurley for his stand on the veterans' question and his enforcement of civil service competitive examinations that guarantee veterans preference.

Jersey City Rally To Warn Reds

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 6 (INS)—More than 100,000 citizens will mobilize in Journal square tonight in a monster rally designed as a warning to Communists to get out and stay out of Jersey City.

The rally follows closely the egg and vegetable barrage hurled at Socialist Norman Thomas when he attempted to speak at Newark Saturday night. Thomas has wired President Green of the American Federation of Labor to repudiate the anti-Communist demonstration tonight.

Mayor Frank Hague appealed to business and patriotic circles today to turn out and show the world that Jersey City "is an unhealthy place for the sowing of seeds of Communism."

Thomas, meanwhile, nursed several painful bruises at his home in Cold Springs Harbor, L. I. He announced he would invade Newark again in the near future.

NEW YORK, June 6 (INS)—Fritz Kuhn, national leader of the German-American Bund, the pro-Nazi organization, said today that 2000 of his uniformed followers would march at Jersey City tonight in support of Mayor Frank Hague's testimonial parade against Communism.

A. L. Aide to Hear Report on Isms

Coleman C. Curran, adjutant of the State Department of the American Legion, will represent the Legion before the legislative committee on legal affairs Wednesday in the State House at the first hearing on the report of the special committee investigating "isms." Curran will sit as an observer. Action by the American Legion at the annual convention in Worcester next month is expected.

Wage Bill Key To Windup

By ARTHUR HACHTEN

WASHINGTON, June 6 (INS)—Congressional administration leaders canvassed the legislative situation with President Roosevelt for an hour this morning and then predicted adjournment by Saturday—but qualified the promise with an "if."

The wage-hours bill is the key to the adjournment, said House Majority Leader Rayburn, who said "progress" in finding a satisfactory middle ground between House and Senate measures, now poles apart, is being made.

Rayburn declared the $500,000,000 last deficiency bill was the only other obstacle to adjournment, and that it would be passed by the House Wednesday.

2 QUESTIONS WEIGHED

Rayburn said the discussion, which was shorter than usual, centered entirely around the wage-hours matter, the deficiency bill and adjournment.

Meanwhile, in a supreme effort to get through by the week-end, leaders decided on day and night sessions, if necessary, to act on important pending legislation.

House and Senate members in conference seeking a wage-hour bill acceptable to both houses of Congress made some progress toward agreement today.

The Senate measure creates a federal board with authority to fix minimum wages up to 40 cents an hour and maximum hours per week to 40. Sharply different, the House-passed legislation itself fixes minimum wages and avoids creation of a federal bureau.

NEW COMPROMISE

Meanwhile a new compromise was placed before the conference by Senator Thomas (D.) of Utah, chairman of the Senate labor committee.

The Thomas compromise would create an administrative agency, it would eliminate the universal rigid setup system recommended in the House bill.

Under the Thomas compromise, the agency would have authority to order various interstate commerce industries to pay hour rates within the 25 and 40 cent range, depending on their location.

The proposal was held in direct opposition to a demand for a uniform universal setup system by William Green, president of the A. F. of L.

Czech Premier Hits Slovak Plan

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia, June 6 (AP)—In a fighting speech, cheered by a great crowd, Premier Hodza today repudiated the claim of Father Andreas Hlinka and his Slovakian autonomist followers to speak in the name of this Republic's Slovakian minority.

"They can speak only for their party," declared the premier, himself a Slovak, "and your presence here—waving his arm toward the cheering crowd—"is the best answer to what they said here yesterday."

"We of the republic declare to the world that we are carrying on . . . we are solid and unshakable as a rock. We will not permit anyone to destroy our republic."

Hodza threw the whole weight of his influence into efforts to solve dangerous problems arising from the demands of Father Hlinka's group for Slovakian autonomy, another disruptive factor added to the autonomy agitations carried on by Germanic, Polish and Hungarian minorities.

"You and I have been loyal to each other until now," the premier told his hearers, "and we will continue to be loyal forever."

Stalin Chats With Retiring U. S. Envoy

MOSCOW, June 6 (INS)—American Ambassador Joseph E. Davies was preparing to leave for his new Brussels post today after the unusual distinction of interviewing Dicta. r Joseph Stalin. Davies was paying a farewell call on Premier Molotov when Stalin joined them. They talked world affairs for two hours.

Held in Baby Death

ACCUSED—Catherine Ferguson, 27, of Milford, was held in $2000 today at Natick, charged with concealing the death of her baby four years ago. She pleaded not guilty, but police say she has told of placing the body in a suitcase following its natural death shortly after birth.

Hold Milford Girl In Baby Death

NATICK, June 6—Charged with concealing the death of an infant, attractive 27-year-old Catherine Ferguson of Milford was held in $2000 in district court here today.

According to police, she said the baby was born dead, but that she had kept its body hidden in a suitcase for four years.

Arrest of Miss Ferguson followed discovery of the body still in the suitcase, in a closet of a Natick house, where she had lived until recently.

Located in Milford, where she is employed in a filling station store, the accused young woman allegedly told police that the baby was born while she was acting as a domestic in a Wellesley home.

Her attorney, Henry Barbadora of Milford, said bail of $2000 would be furnished.

Woman's Body Found Off Maine

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, Me., June 6—The body of a woman floating face downward seven miles at sea presented officials of Lincoln County with a real mystery of the sea today.

The woman, expensively attired in a tailored suit, may have been slain and carried to sea to create the impression she had been a suicide from a passing liner, authorities said.

Medical Examiner Dr. George A. Gregory said he would perform an autopsy on the woman's body today.

He said the fact she had been in the water not more than 36 hours, with statements of fishermen that the woman could not have floated so far from shore in such a short time, led authorities to the theory she was slain and carried to sea.

EDITOR'S WIFE DEAD

ST. LOUIS, June 6 (INS)—Mrs. Florence B. Taylor, 47, wife of Frank W. Taylor, Jr., managing editor of the St. Louis Star-Times is dead today after an illness of three years.

Showdown Near In Cleveland Relief Crisis

CLEVELAND, June 6 (AP)—Cleveland is moving "closer and closer to a showdown" in its direct-relief crisis, Clark L. Mock, city relief commissioner, reported today.

"In one relief office I found clients furious because some people received emergency food orders and they did not," Mock said after a week-end survey.

"Some objected to our policy of giving orders to care for small children. They felt older people needed just as much attention."

"Visitors are having difficulty making calls. They are being stopped on the street by angry clients and landlords."

Cleveland has been filling emergency relief orders on a hand-to-mouth basis for two months. It has reported as exhausted the state's contributions to relief funds, and has been dipping into municipal funds. There are about 75,000 direct relief recipients in Cleveland, and 12,000 more in the county.

The Legislature met May 6 to help meet the relief crisis in Cleveland and other Ohio cities, but so far has not reached the appropriation stage.

Filipinos Flee Volcano Peril

MANILA, June 6 (INS)—With the first eruption of Mount Mayon since 1928 hourly increasing in violence today, natives fled for safety from four towns at the base of the world's most perfect volcanic cone.

An immense column of smoke was pouring into the sky. Eruptions at 30-minute intervals bombarded the island with huge boulders. Lava from the crater was slowly advancing on the town of Camalig.

a bitter Democratic senatorial campaign. Both warring camps were confident of victory as early reports indicated a heavy turnout, but no votes will be counted until the polls close at 8 p. m.

Representative Otha D. Wearin (D.), seeking Senate nomination with the backing of WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins, charged Senator Guy M. Gillette (D.) has never reconciled his vote against the court bill with his previous views.

Closing his campaign with an early morning broadcast today, Wearin declared:

"This is a test of Roosevelt's strength in the corn belt. We will go forward with Roosevelt or backward with his enemies."

FLAYS HOPKINS

Senator Gillette, seeking renomination, charged opposition to him, directed by "persons outside the state," was organized solely because of his vote against the court enlargement bill. He supported other important New Deal measures.

He bitterly assailed Hopkins and others "who have engaged in a program of accusation, misrepresentation, distortion and political trickery in an attempt to secure repudiation of me."

Wearin claimed whole-hearted administration support, while Gillette declared Roosevelt has maintained a position of "proper and strict neutrality in this matter."

Alignment of the voting, expected to result in a two-party total of 400,000 or more, was in many respects similar to that in the recent Pennsylvania primary.

LABOR FOR SENATOR

The stage democratic administration, with the exception of the state treasurer, was lined up solidly for Gillette. Senator Clyde Herring (D.) and the state committee were backing him.

To this, the senator yesterday added support of the American Federation of Labor. President William Green sent a telegram declaring Gillette's record is "100 per cent favorable to labor" and that to fail to support him would be "the height of ingratitude."

Besides Hopkins, Wearin had the support of President Homer Martin of the CIO's United Automobile Workers, active support of United States District Attorney E. G. Dunn, State Treasurer Leo Wegman and Congressman E. C. Eicher and inferential support of James Roosevelt, son the President.

JAMES' FRIEND

The younger Roosevelt sent a telegram to Dunn in which he referred to Wearin as "my friend." A picture of James Roosevelt and Wearin together was widely distributed.

White-haired former Senator Lester J. Dickinson and Representative Lloyd Thurston are seeking the G. O. P. senatorial nomination. Three other Democrats are in the race with Wearin and Gillette, leaving a possibility that neither will get the required 35 per cent of the vote.

In that case, the nomination would go to convention, and it has been hinted Governor Nelson G. Kraschel would get it.

$1000 Boy Ransom Note Is Puzzle

Dedham police today found a mysterious ransom note, demanding $1000 for return of an unidentified boy to his parents.

The note was suspended from a stick slanting over lonely, wooded Lyons street, Dedham, near the Needham line.

Patrolmen William Cummings and Leo Maida, who made the find, said the note had been left in such a position that it must be seen by any passing autoist.

The note read:

"Your boy will be returned if you leave 10 hundred doleres at front of the oak tree in the back yard. If not he will be kild. WARNING."

There was no address and no signature.

Police Chief John Cahill of Dedham ordered an immediate check made of families living in the Dedham-Needham district where the note was left.

None of these families, however, reported any child missing. Chief Cahill warned them to be on their guard.

A tree limb about 10 feet long had been propped between two boulders so that it extended across the highway. From the limb hung a second, smaller stick, on which the note was impaled.

Brandeis Here

En route to his summer home in Chatham, where he expects to spend three months' rest from public affairs, "reading, studying and writing," Justice Louis D. Brandeis of the United States Supreme Court arrived in Boston from Washington today.

Accompanying him was Mrs. Brandeis. Justice and Mrs. Brandeis went directly from the railroad depot to the Bellevue Hotel.

Declining to discuss anything but himself, the justice said he plans to remain in Boston for a week on business and then will spend three months, instead of the usual two, at Chatham.

"I want to improve my health," he said.

He had luncheon at the hotel with Miss Lela Coburn, chief clerk of the State Savings Bank and Life Insurance Division, which Justice Brandeis was instrumental in having set up years ago.

Revere Racket Incomes Probed

The special grand jury probing Revere rackets today delved into the source of income of well known sportsmen as the investigation again got under way in new quarters at Suffolk courthouse.

With the regular grand jury convening, the "blue ribbon" jury took over Room 462.

How big game operators, horse room owners and others made their money in Revere was scheduled for an airing in the investigation of the rule of racketeers in Revere, scene of the slaying of Louis Gaeta.

Indictments against three or more Revere officials were expected. Already under indictment is Mayor William M. O'Brien.

It was indicated several witnesses might appear before the jury a second time on their own request, as a result of contempt citations recognized last week by Judge Lewis Goldberg.

Conant Rapped As 'Unjust' to Walsh, Sweezy

Refusal of President James B. Conant of Harvard to reconsider the so-called "Walsh-Sweezy case" was attacked by two more Harvard professors as "far short of an conception of democratic justice or wise educational policy."

The criticism came from Francis O. Matthiessen, associate professor of literature and history, and David W. Prall, associate professor of philosophy, in an open letter to a committee of eight eminent professors who reported on the case. A copy of the letter went to President Conant.

Both men concurred in the report or the committee that Drs. J. Raymond Walsh and Alan R. Sweezy should be reinstated to their teaching posts, from which they were dropped.

In the letter to the committee, Professors Prall and Matthiessen denounced President Conant's failure to act favorably on the committee's recommendation, stating that he had promised "to reopen their cases if the committee's report warrants it."

"It is hard to see," the new critics declared, "how the report could have warranted it more cogently."

Cocktail Party Probed in Lynn

An alleged $1000 cocktail party given by a prominent Lynn politician on the eve of his appointment to a city post by the city council is being investigated by two private detectives hired by the Lynn Taxpayers' Association, it was revealed today.

Richard J. Flynn, executive secretary of the association, disclosed that affairs of the city council, including appointments to office, hiring of architects and building materials appropriations, are the objects of the detectives' probe. An outgrowth of the investigation will be a check on the city's voting lists, he said.

The city official in question denied the alleged $1000 cocktail party several weeks ago when he conferred with Mayor J. Fred Manning.

Who does not thrill to the close of the working day . . . the prospect of being free from its responsibilities and cares, even for the brief, fleeting hours between one day and the next?

And there are few of us who would not like to look forward to a time when we can be forever free . . . when at last alarm clocks can ring unheeded, when appointment books may gather dust . . . when leisure becomes a way of life, not merely a brief respite from a task which must be taken up again on the morrow.

Call it a day! Retire a definite number of years from now with the assurance of a regular monthly income you cannot outlive. Such independence is now possible to every man and woman who can earn even a modest living today.

A John Hancock retirement plan, worked out in a practical manner to suit both your purse and your plans, will begin at once to pay you in freedom from worry about the future . . . Later on its guarantee of a regular, undisturbed income all your life will give you the greater freedom to enjoy life in your own way.

Toasts to Three Engaged Couples

By BETTY ALDEN

"FOR the first time in the history of the Beacon Hill neighborhood, three couples were engaged to be married on the same day. The brides were Miss Mary McManus, Miss Helen Ward and Miss Elizabeth Silliman. The grooms were Mr. George D. Baker, Mr. Theodore Kenyon and Mr. Edward Kent Silliman.

Miss McManus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. McManus, of Boston, was engaged to Mr. George D. Baker, of New York. Miss Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Helen Ward, of New York, was engaged to Mr. Theodore Kenyon, of New York. Miss Silliman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kent Silliman, of New York, was engaged to Mr. Edward Kent Silliman, of New York.

The engagements were announced yesterday afternoon at a luncheon given by Mrs. Gamage at her home, 100 Beacon Hill. The brides were all graduates of the same high school, and the grooms were all graduates of the same college. The engagements were announced at a luncheon given by Mrs. Gamage at her home, 100 Beacon Hill.

Miss McManus, who will soon celebrate her first wedding anniversary, is a deep red velvet capote with a black chiffon panel, a black cape, and matching the red apples on her hair.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. McManus drove over from Eastern Point to join about a dozen merry-makers in toasting two engaged couples. . . . Barbara Welch and Peter Gamage, who will be married on the 25th, and Jane Phillips and Bill Brown, 3d., who will become "Mr. and Mrs." on July 2d. . . . A bolero of coral petals was a colorful addition to Mrs. Brewer's filmy black chiffon and two coral flowers were nestled in her blonde curls. . . .

Jane Phillips Smiles Acknowledge Toasts

Jane Phillips, whose brunette coloring is a sharp contrast to her fiancé's wavy blond hair, smilingly acknowledges the toasts before executing a few shag steps in a lovely gown of navy dotted swiss with lace and embroidery edging the low square neck. . . . Mr. and Mrs. C. Hastings Gamage, brother and sister-in-law of Peter, were among the merry-makers, together with Isaac Patch and Frank Brewer. . . . Mrs. Gamage achieved a novel effect by wearing fresh gardenias strung on her belt across the back of a swirling black tulle gown. . . .

Mrs. Bruce Burnie and her daughter, Helen Blanchard, who gave a luncheon yesterday for Helen's cousin, Polly Harwood, varied the usual routine of debutante luncheons by having mixed company. . . . and a stag line of chivalrous youths to carry the girls' salads and ices out to the broad terrace where they enjoyed their luncheon in the warm sunlight. . . .

Harwood of Cambridge, received the best wishes of nearly a hundred young friends. . . . including Katharine MacAusland, Joan Lathrop, Leda Ernst, Edith Moir, Jessica Stevens, Betty Strong and Dorothy Comstock. . . . also Prudence Wellman, Celia Hubbard, Dorothy Storer, Lawrence White, Robert Truesdale, Clifton D. It's Worth a Silver Jubilee

From David T. ...

It's worth a silver jubilee to the woman who has been able to keep her face as fresh and young as it was when she first looked in the mirror. The secret is not in the skin, but in the mind. A woman who is happy and content with her life will show it in her face. She will have a bright, clear complexion, and her eyes will be full of life and joy. This is the true beauty, and it is the only one that lasts.

Don't "Tweeze"

Many women who are bothered by their eyebrows, and who are constantly tweezing them, are not aware of the fact that this is a very bad habit. It is not only painful, but it can also cause a great deal of damage to the skin. The best way to keep your eyebrows in good shape is to use a good eyebrow cream. This will keep the hair soft and pliable, and it will also help to prevent the hair from falling out. If you are bothered by your eyebrows, try using a good eyebrow cream, and you will be able to keep them in good shape without the need for tweezing.

"Don't Tell Me This Shoe Is $2—"

It is a very common sight to see a woman looking at a pair of shoes in a store, and then looking at the price tag. If the price is $2, she will usually say, "Don't tell me this shoe is $2—". This is a very common reaction, and it is usually due to the fact that the woman is not used to paying that much for a pair of shoes. However, if she looks at the shoes a little more closely, she will see that they are very well made, and that they are very comfortable. She will also see that they are very stylish, and that they are very in keeping with the latest fashion. So, if she is looking at a pair of shoes, and she is not sure if she should buy them, she should look at the price tag. If the price is $2, she should buy them. They are worth it.

Austen Lake Says

Good Man Feelin' Bad Joe Louis En Famille:

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 6.

IT WAS MONDAY IN JOE LOUIS' FIGHT camp and the tourist canteen was deserted. Its proprietor dozed on the doorstep, sucking a cigaret and watching a mongrel hound search its hide for fleas. No whisper of air stirred the shawl of ivy on the cottage around the way, where Louis was eating, or sleeping, or just brooding morbidly on his forthcoming fight with Max Schmeling.

Austen Lake

From the low-roofed training shed, beyond the fenced-in boxing area, a Negro voice sang a lazy dudge which trailed suddenly to a falsetto laugh, "Ha-yah-yah!" There was the staccato purr of a punching bag, rolling against its frame like a kettle drum. "The Blues," sang the voice, "aint nuthin'..." The hound stopped scratching and cocked an inquiring ear. "...but a good man," sang the voice. The canteen man stayed slumped over his knees, blinking drowsily and soaking up the sun "...feelin' bad," mourned the voice.

The scene was changed from the horde of Harlem half-breed boys which had overrun the Lakeville camp when Louis was trained for Schmeling previously. The easy access which the Negro guides, the punch-bag vendors and the rattle-demonstrator mob had to their idol was gone. Grayed troopers did sentry duty at the stone exits where only accredited members of the press were permitted to pass.

If Schmeling Beats Him...?

IT WAS COOLER IN THE COTTAGE where Louis lounged in a salad green polo shirt, slumped on the curve of his spine. He offered a greeting hand, slack as a fresh-caught haddock, and Jack Blackburn, his tutor in the savage sciences, curled back his rubbery lips showing a mouthful of brass and growling "Howdy," though it was clear that they preferred to be alone.

It was clear too that Louis' experience on the June night two years ago had left a ridge of calcified scar-tissue on his memory. Obviously that topic was "dead end." He was back in his monastic lab: smell again, more awry than shy, and painfully bored by talk.

So our conversation was just a lot of wasted wind, trimmed with tactful openings. So I said, "Joe, if Schmeling beats you..." That pricked his calloused conscience and he rolled his shoe-button eyes without turning his neck and grunted, "Huh?"

"Smelling ain' gonna beat nobody," interrupted Blackburn with slow emphasis wriggling his glistening pate and screwing his slant features into an annoyed pug. The Negro fighter said nothing, bending his gaze a little gratefully toward his dark mentor for sparing him the labor of thinking up an answer.

Blackburn Answers for Joe

THERE IS NO EAGER CONFIDENCE NOW on Louis' part as there had been at Lakewood. No speculation on the round in which he prepared to bag his victim. No hint that he would end the battle at his whim. He is moody, where formerly he talked with the easy self belief of a surgeon about to perform a clinical operation.

Joe said, "I'm gonna beat Schmeling from the kitchen and I..." Blackburn interrupted, "But if Schmeling beats you..." I persisted, "Will you give up the ring?"

This piece of impertinence plainly irritated Blackburn more than Louis, who was thinking about food. Joe thinks one thought at a time. Jack squirmed as though feeling sensations of ants in his pants. A smoldering light crept into his eye. The hoarse skin of his bald scalp furrowed into a network of wrinkles. He wished to avoid such defeatist talk before his susceptible pupil.

"Th'ow Some Punches..."

"AH DON' AIM TO..." began Joe, but Blackburn broke through his service, squinting his words through lank teeth. "Listen," said he succinctly, "If Schmeling beats Joe again, it's Joe's own fault, joss lak ah keep tellin' him he nix Schmeling that la' fight. He gonna th'ow some punches this time—not joss peckin' dah. He gonna th'ow some punches, nixch Joe..."

Joe nodded vaguely. Blackburn continued, "I nix Schmeling from the kitchen and I nix Schmeling from the kitchen and I nix Schmeling from the kitchen..."

The fighter's glance drifted drowsily toward the pantry where a white coated Negro houseman was rattling the dinner tools. If he heard Blackburn at all, it was as an unintelligible jumble of sound which held no meaning. Our conversation was just a foray murder and we were no longer concerned shapes. For his mind was pre-occupied with the sweetly suggestive sounds and the perfumes emanating from the pantry.

As I turned away, Blackburn was shining his naked noggin with a towel. He was looking like a man who had just been hit. Blackburn was shining his naked noggin with a towel. He was looking like a man who had just been hit. Blackburn was shining his naked noggin with a towel. He was looking like a man who had just been hit.

Start at 3:00 P. M.

GIANTS UP AGAINST IT

Casey Stengel must be boiling today over that setback his team received yesterday from the Cards in the first game. . . . Anytime his charges have a two-run lead with one man down in the ninth, and nobody on, Mr. Stengel is a tough audience for those who attempt to put forth excuses for a defeat. . . . The Connecticut team packed two many big guns for Massachusetts and Rhode Island during the Inter-State matches at Hingham. . . . If the Nutmeg States repeat next year, which is very possible, each state will have won four times since the matches became three-team matches. . . . Bill Terry is desperate, sure that his Giants have lost all in a row and are back in second place. . . . "Memphis" Hill knew his squad needed more reserve material but he has been unable to induce any club owner to accept a way of young Stoneham's dough. . . . The Giants must acquire a standout second baseman and another right-handed hitting outfielder to stay in the race. . . . Although its first four-ball invitation tournament scheduled for June 15-17-18 conflicts with Salem and Springfield, the Massachusetts Golf Club of East Providence will have no trouble filling its quota of 61 teams. . . . The club will offer more than $1000 in prizes.—GRIMES.

HORACE STONEHAM

BEST BET—GREYICK, EIGHTH RACE

Greytick, which ran a brilliant second to Wilful in the inaugural Cup Race, encounters no such competition in the eighth race feature tonight and shapes up as the best bet on the card.

Linda Darling will be dangerous, and Snowshoes cannot be overlooked, although the latter would be much more of a factor over a longer distance.

40-Day Meet Opens Tonight At Taunton

By MATTHEW KEANEY

TAUNTON, June 6.—The fourth season of dog racing gets under way tonight at the Taunton dog track where the Bristol County Kennel Club opens its 40-day meeting.

General Manager James J. Egan believes this is to be the most successful season in the history of the sport locally.

More people saw the schooling races here before, and the demand for tickets and box seat reservations is the greatest in the track's history.

For its inaugural purse tonight, Racing Secretary Jimmy Hodeck has arranged an event which would be difficult to better.

In this race Village Lass, Rural Crier, Court Critic, Traffic Glenn and Cruiser Cares are rated as dogs which could win the race.

For my best bet on tonight's card I am taking Miraculous to win over Blanche K. and Corporal Cares.

CAMBRIDGE DOG WINS

WEST PALMOUTH, Me., June 6 (AP).—Lexington Village, a pointer owned by Vinton W. Mason, Cambridge, Mass., and handled by Herbert Silver, Escawaba, N. H., won the open all-age stake at the final Maine field dog trials of the spring season.

Cubs Give Giants Supreme Test

CHICAGO, June 6 (AP)—Manager Charlie Grimm of the Chicago Cubs thinks the New York Giants are on the spot and heading for a ride before the week is out.

"The Giants have been setting the pace for a long time and it's been all right with us," grinned the Cub pilot, whose club went into first place in the National League race. The Cubs downed Philadelphia as Bill Terry and his crew took another whipping from Cincinnati.

MARTY BACK IN OUTFIELD

"The pressure definitely is on the Giants now," Grimm continued. "We didn't do so well earlier in the season while the Giants were hot, but they've been slipping while we steadily improved. We haven't been getting any hitting from Frank Demaree, and a player of his proven ability is certain to start going."

"Joe Marty, out with injuries for a long time, is back in the outfield. Our pitching is consistently good. I think the Giants are going to have trouble this week."

The Cubs and Giants are scheduled to meet Tuesday for a single game, twice on Wednesday and wind up the four-game series Thursday, and Grimm has made no secret of the fact that he has been waiting for the Giant invasion.

The Cubs will have their four top-ranking hurlers completely rested and probably will start Clay Bryant Tuesday, say Bill Lee and Larry French Wednesday and start Tex Carleton Thursday.

For the Giants, the pitchers likely will be Carl Hubbell, who bowed to the scrappy Cincinnati Reds Saturday; Cliff Melton, Hal Schumacher and Harry Gumbert.

CUBS CLICKING

The Giants, who looked like the class of the circuit only a few weeks ago, are in the grip of a bad, all-around slump. They won their last game May 29, and since have lost six straight to Boston, Pittsburgh and the Reds.

The Cubs, on the other hand, have been clicking, winning four of six games since coming home. Bill Lee, after a poor start, has been hurling sensationally, and his return to form has "hopped up" the entire club.

Only Water!

Makes a New Man

PORTLAND, Ore., June 6 (AP)—Give Freddie Hutchinson, Seattle's 19-year-old pitching marvel, a drink of water and he's a new man.

Freddie weakened in the eighth inning yesterday to give Portland two runs. Then, while 9,000 amazed fans looked on, Freddie called time out, casually walked off the mound and took a long drink.

Refreshed, he stopped the Beavers cold and won his ninth Pacific Coast League victory this season, his first in professional baseball.

War Admiral Due To Start Today

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—Pamph D. Fiddle's speedy colt, War Admiral, which has received enough "panning" in the last few weeks to make up for last year's lack of praise when he won the "triple crown" and the three-year-old championship, is scheduled to start at the post at Aqueduct today.

The fans have their doubts on that point, for Trainer George Conway said Saturday that the Admiral would not start in the Queens County Handicap "if the track is off."

Ambers Eager To Take Shot At Armstrong

LOS ANGELES, June 6 (AP)—Now that the justly deserved pangs of praise for Henry Armstrong for the moment, Lou Ambers, lightweight champion of the world, would like to edge in a word concerning his coming engagement with Hustlin' Henry.

Lou Ambers

"No, sir, Armstrong never did have to look for Lou, and he won't have to look for him on the night of July 26."

"He can find me to look for me. He can find me," Ambers cried.

His manager, Al Weill, declared: "No, sir, Armstrong never did have to look for Lou, and he won't have to look for him on the night of July 26."

"We wanted Armstrong last year."

"Lou has always been a fighter's champ. Didn't he give Tony Canzoneri a return fight after he won the title, and didn't he beat him in 15 rounds?"

"And what about Pedro Montañez? I'll tell you what—he outpointed Lou in a non-title fight and then Lou took him on again for the title and beat him from here to there."

"Has anybody heard of Montañez since?" Weill demanded.

"Lou nearly killed him, and Pedro hit harder than Armstrong. So did Canzoneri."

"Louis is smart. He knows Armstrong is good, but he's not running away from him. Henry won't have no trouble finding Lou Ambers."

Hartnett

"Loves" Giants

CHICAGO, June 6 (AP)—After more than 16 years' service in the major leagues, Charles Leo (Gaby) Hartnett, the Chicago Cubs' portly star catcher, isn't averse to a little "vacation" now and then—but don't suggest that he take one with the New York Giants in town.

"Me out of the game against the Giants?" he boomed when asked if a wrist brace, suffered Saturday, would bench him when the Giants open a scheduled four-game series with the Cubs Tuesday. "Say, that wrist would have to be broken to keep me from those guys."

Hartnett, who is 37, is determined to catch 100 games. He caught that many or more for 12 seasons. Ken O'Dea will handle Gaby's chores until the colorful Irishman is back in harness.

They'll Do It Every Time -- Hatlo

Collins' Boy Leads College Loop at Bat

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—What with commencements, alumni reunions and other affairs connected with the end of the collegiate year, Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League teams don't have much time to play ball this week. Except for the first Yale-Princeton tussle Saturday, they'll put off deciding the pennant race until later.

The Tigers play at Yale this week, and about all they need to do is win either that game or the one at Princeton a week later to clinch third place in the standings. Then Eis still could drop one and then tie for third, but to do so they would have to perform the highly improbable feat of taking two in as many days from Harvard's league leaders.

Princeton took over third last Saturday by winning a double-header from the last-place Pennsylvania outfit, taking the opener 4-3 on Lefty Furbur's hurrying and Eddie Glavin's home run, then going on to win 5-2 when Bob Riddle pitched effectively and added his own curve with a four bagger.

INDIANS WIN EIGHT

Earlier in the week Dartmouth had set the stage for a final tussle with Harvard for the lead by whipping Columbia twice, 4-1 and 6-3. That gave the Indians a record of eight wins and three losses coming up in their concluding game with Harvard June 14. Harvard, with three to go, has won seven and lost two.

The races for the individual trophies and titles remained virtually unchanged. Yale's Eddie Collins, Jr., held first place in the batting competition for the Charles H. Blair bat with his holdover average of .462. Red Lupien of Harvard, also idle all week, held second place with .435. Those two marks are equalled by a pair of Penn pitchers, Kosnak and Brickley, but each has visited the plate only half as often as his rivals.

Lupien and Jack Loefer of Cornell have battled in 12 runs apiece and Lupien leads in total bases on hits with 29. Walter Johnson of Cornell is almost certain of winning the Princeton A. A. cup with his total of 12 stolen bases.

INGALLS BEST HURLER

Eddie Ingalls of Harvard continues as the leading pitcher with five straight victories, although Hal Wonsom, Dartmouth sophomore, could give him an argument about who is the best. Wonsom has won seven games, lost three, hurled 73 innings and tied one league record with a two-hitter against Cornell.

Paul was to have been sent to Rochester of the International League, but refused to report there, according to reports.

Kennedy Tops Majors With 9 Straight Wins

Detroit's star right-hander chummed with the Boston Sox in his ninth straight win, to top all pitchers in both leagues. Wheaties fans Dick Walker and Pete Fox provided most of the batting power, the Sox winning, 10 to 4.

Try something good? Vern Kennedy offers Virginia Johnston a winner's treat. "If there's one dish right up at the top of the list for me, it's the Wheaties I like to eat at breakfast time," the Detroit right-hander declares. Before starting out for the ball park, many a hungry Tiger keeps satisfied till game time with whole wheat—those tasty Wheaties flakes, plenty of milk or cream, and some fruit.

Start the day with a smile at the breakfast table! Wheaties—with milk or cream, and some fruit juice—provides complete, balanced "Breakfast of Champions" which helps carry you through the morning. Ask your grocer for Wheaties.

Wheaties and advertising claims for them are accepted by the Council on Foods of the American Medical Association.

U. S. Assured Victory In 1940 Olympics

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, June 6 (INS)—Three salient facts stand out today in the wake of the I. C. 4-A track and field championships run off Saturday at Randall's Island.

The first is: Our colleagues are growing bigger, stronger and faster.

The second is: No section of the country has a corner on the nation's athletic talent.

The third is: Uncle Sam has nothing to fear in the 1940 Olympics at Tokyo.

The third point, of course, is the result of the first two. Southern California was the team title with a hand-picked squad that had class from top to bottom. This does not mean, however, that California has most of the athletic talent.

simply means that most of the strength on the Coast is concentrated in a few colleges where eastern power is spread over dozens of colleges.

TEN WINS FOR EAST
Eastern colleges won 10 of the 15 individual titles; the Middle-west, nobly represented by Michigan State, won two; and the Coast two and a share of another with the East.

A heavy downpour hit the field just before the finals got under way but despite this the boys managed to snatch three collegiate records and equal two others.

The track coaches are justly proud of their charges and hopeful for the future. The consensus seems to be: What have we to fear at the Olympics when Pitt can produce a John Woodruff to run a smashing 440 in 47 flat and then come back a little later with a blazing 1:52.6 half?

The coaches also are high on Michigan State's Harvey Woodruff, who tore over the muddy track in faultless fashion to win both hurdle titles. We lose a Forrest Towns and come up with a Woodruff.

We seem to have no javelin throwers at present who can come anywhere near the distance attained by the Finns, but in every other event we are a deep deep.

PLENTY OF SPRINTERS
The woods appear to be full of wonderful sprinters, middle-distance men, high and broad jumpers, hammer throwers, shot putters and pole vaulters.

Where all were so excellent it would be unfair to attempt to single out any one champion for special mention and yet we cannot refrain from picking Howie Borck's record-breaking mile as the outstanding performance of the meet.

Fr. Coughlin Denies He's Under Ban

DETROIT, June 6 (INS)—Assertion by the Rev. J. Frank Norris that the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin has been banned from public appearances until November was denied today by Father Coughlin.

The radio priest said Dr. Norris, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church, misconstrued a telegram in which Father Coughlin said he would be unable to speak at a Belle Isle mass meeting yesterday.

Dr. Norris read a portion of the telegram to 10,000 at the mass meeting yesterday, quoting Father Coughlin as saying:

"I regret to state that on specific instructions from my superiors I am advised to withdraw from all public appearances until next November."

Father Coughlin said he does not recall the exact wording of the telegram, but denied he has been banned from public appearances. He said:

"No Catholic priest is allowed to participate in a purely religious service with a minister or rabbi. I mentioned that I was not permitted to do so in the telegram."

The radio priest said he plans several speeches this month and that he will resume radio broadcasts next fall.

Kidnaping

Betty Howard, New England girl, now waitress in Miami, was questioned by G-men about her friendship for Willard Campbell, roadhouse proprietor, who was held for several days in the hope he might shed some light on the Florida kidnaping of little Jimmy Cash.

Quiz N. E. Girl In Kidnaping

Investigators in the Jimmy Cash kidnaping case in Florida have had a New England girl, acquaintance of a suspect, under questioning, it was revealed today as the kidnap hunt went into the ninth day.

Kidnapers of James Bailey Cash, Jr., 5½, of Princeton, Fla., are known to the G-men working on the case, it is reported on reliable authority.

Today it was learned that agents of the Federal Bureau of Identification had picked up Miss Betty Howard, pretty 24-year-old waitress in the Mahogany Bar in downtown Miami.

Miss Howard, who went from New England to Florida six months ago, was taken to the FBI headquarters in Florida and ques-

Jap Bombs Hit French Hospital

CANTON, China, June 6 (AP)—Japanese warplanes rained bombs on this terrorized city in two punishing raids today and Chinese officials estimated the toll of dead or wounded at 1500.

Over 100 bombs were dropped in two raids, and according to official estimates at least 1000 buildings were destroyed.

One bomb scored a direct hit on the French-owned Doumer hospital, killing two Chinese patients and wounding a French surgeon and many Chinese. One side of the building was blown out. (The French ambassador at Tokyo protested the bombing).

Bombers Kill 3 On British Ship

MADRID, June 6 (AP)—Insurgent warplanes left 21 persons dead, 100 wounded and another British ship ablaze in a fierce foray today over Alicante, 75 miles south of Valencia on the eastern Mediterranean coast.

7 Mystery Planes Flee Over Border

PERPIGNAN, France, June 6 (AP)—French territory was invaded again today by nine unidentified bombing planes from Spain, but prompt warning shots from French anti-aircraft batteries sent them back across the frontier after a 10-minute flight over France.

French officials referred to the nine unmarked gray planes making today's incursion only as "of unknown nationality," but Spanish government forces on the other side of the border seemed sure they were insurgent craft.

Spanish government anti-aircraft batteries at Puigcerda fired 100 shots at the planes as they crossed back into Spain. Apparently there were no hits, but shells burst close to the squadron.

Today's invaders first appeared over the village of Puymerens, near the Andorran frontier. They flew southeast more than six miles over French territory.

An anti-aircraft battery at Ur, standing with guns ready to fire following orders issued by Premier Daladier, sent a warning shot into the air as soon as the planes appeared.

The battery prepared to follow the warning with charged shells, but the planes wheeled south.
